Foreword

WE have striven to make the 1920 Chilhowean a faithful and interesting memory book of the year's work and play. If, when you look at it in future years, your heart is warmed at the sight of familiar scenes and faces, and if you again feel the thrill of the Maryville spirit, we will feel that we have succeeded.

To

REV. WILLIAM PATTON STEVENSON, D.D.

Our College Pastor

and

MRS. WILLIAM PATTON STEVENSON

Our Foster Mother

Who, coming to Maryville when we were Freshmen, have made "The House in the Woods" a veritable home, our Sunday Classes a pleasure, our Vesper services an inspiration, and every phase of college life doubly interesting and helpful, we, the Junior Class of 1920, lovingly dedicate this, the fourteenth volume of the Chilhowean.

Senior Class

Fred Hobart Cagle, B.A.

Alpha Sigma

ENGLEWOOD, TENNESSEE

Our president came to us from the centennial class, but we have never held it against him and have respected him enough to give him the highest office in our class. "Good-natured," always ready to "bite" at a joke, as well as have the "wind to blow from the East," who could help but like him?

"Nothing humbler than ambition when it's about to climb."

Entered Air Service November 17, 1917; M. T. O. T. C., October, 1918, at Jacksonville, Fla.; Class Basketball and Baseball, '16; Class Football, '17; Class President, '20.

Robert Leroy Belt, B.A.

Athenian

WELLSVILLE, TENNESSEE

And as for Bob—he goes peacefully on his way, moonshining whenever possible, winning all the tennis games he plays, and smiling always. He is studying medicine and has the distinction of a summer course at the University of Chicago. He also has the distinction of being the best-dressed man in the class.

"Laugh and the world laughs with you."

Tennis Team, '18, '19; Manager Tennis Team, '19; Class Basketball, '18, '19; Advertising Manager of Chilhowean, '19; Member Pre-Medical Club.

Senior Class

Horace Earl Brown, B.A.

Alpha Sigma

MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE

Business—that's Brownie all over. As in school he has managed much, so in life we know he shall. Forever bustling about and busy, enterprising and efficient, he is always useful. At moonshining, even, he is industrious and effective.

"'Tis better to wear out than rust out."

President of Class, '15-'16; Winner Cross-Country Run, '18-'19; Member Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '18-'19; College Debater against Tusculum, '19; Manager Highland Echo, '19-'20; Advertising Manager Chilhowean, '19; Boys' Glee Club; Treasurer Class, '18-'19; Varsity Basketball, '18-'19, '19-'20; Manager Basketball, '19-'20; President Pre-Medical Association, '19-'20; Graduate Public Speaking; Member of "M" Club.

George Brandle Callahan, B.A.

Alpha Sigma

ERWIN, TENNESSEE

Not by sudden, startling spurts, but by capable, manly, faithful plugging, George has climbed to the very peak of the estimation of all. Women are good judges of men. And where is she who will not praise him high? He is likewise popular with the fellows.

"I dare do all that may become a man.
Who dares do more is none."

Cross-Country, '16, '19; Class Athletics, '17, '18, '19; Manager Tennis, '18; Member Y. M. C. A. Advisory Committee, '18, '19; Social Chairman Y. M. C. A., Fall, '18; Vice-President Class, '18 and '19; Manager Basketball, '18-'19; Business Manager Centennial Chilhowean, '19; President Adelphic Union, '19; Business Manager Highland Echo, '19-'20; Secretary Y. M. C. A., '19-'20; President Alpha Sigma, Winter, '20.

Senior Class

Mildred Lucile Campbell, B.A.

Bainonian

SPRING CITY, TENNESSEE

When it comes to walking to Look Rock and back in one day, taking part in midwinters, delighting the hearts of all the teachers, and taking part in every college activity, Mildred is on the dot. We feel that she will make a wonderful success in anything she undertakes, and expect to hear great things of her next year from Leland-Powers.

"There was none like her—none."

Associate Editor Chilhowean, '19; Y. W. C. A. Delegate to Blue Ridge, '19; Vice-President Equal Suffrage League, '19; Graduate in Expression, '20; President Bainonian, Fall Term, '20; Girls' Forensic League, '20.

Tien Ze Chang, B.A.

BEE Z ST., HANGCHOW, CHINA

In this day of advertisement, he declines to advertise himself or be advertised. This gentleman came to us from old Cathay. We used to love his sweet disposition, celestial smile and witty remarks; but now we admire his dynamic temperament, phlegmatic attitude and his firm grasp of his own convictions. Ordinarily, although he is a quiet pusher and gives his best advice and energy to his immediate associates, yet occasionally he is a loud knocker; but nay, indeed he is a man of justice and principle. During the war he helped his adopted Uncle Sam as assistant treasury clerk and studied law and politics at the capital, and has come back to steal a little of the arts from us. He has never told us of his future career, but we all hope that there is a little cabinet in Peking waiting for him. He comes to us as a child, but we give him back to China as a man. Chang, old boy, good luck!

"Live honorably, treat people squarely, pay my debts, and TAKE ALL CHANCES."

Nationalist of the C. N. L. of A.; Secretary-Treasurer of Law Club, '18.

Senior Class

IRROVIA CORRY, B.A.

Bainonian

SILOAM, GEORGIA

Rodie is too big a girl to have justice done her by any classmate. She quietly assumes the responsibility of any task, no matter how large, and when it is finished the class always says "Well done." Her poise is one of her chief characteristics, but her greatest talent lies in reading. She attempts big things and at the same time enters whole-heartedly into every phase of college activity.

"Grace in all her steps,
In every gesture dignity."

Vice-President Bainonian, Fall Term, '19; Chairman Bainonian Midwinter Committee, '20; Senior Annual Committee, '20; Graduate in Expression, '20.

DEXTER CLAYTON COX, B.A.

Bainonian

PARKERSBURG, WEST VIRGINIA

"Dec" is voted unanimously the lucky girl of the class. She says, "A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush." On June 23, 1918, the degree of A.M. was conferred upon this fair lassie. "Dec" is a good old girl, loved by everyone who knows her sterling worth. We expect her to shine as "mistress of the manse."

"Better to be born lucky than rich."

Secretary of Y. W. C. A., '16-'17; Secretary of Bainonian, Winter Term, '18; Class Basketball Teams, '16-'17, '18, '19, '20; Varsity Basketball Squad, '19-'20; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '17-'18; President of Virginians, '15-'16; Treasurer Virginians, '16-'17; Vesper Choir.

Senior Class

Mary Davis Creswell, B.A.

Bainonian

MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE

To see Mary walk sedately over the campus one would imagine that she is the best girl in school. However, matrons search her room for visitors during study hours quite often. She is jolly and in her mind are made all kinds of schemes for good times. Cooking (at all hours) is her specialty.

"She could roaste and sethe and broile and frye,
Make a good soupe and well bake a pye."

Vice-President of Bainonians, Winter Term, '20; Graduate in Home Economics, '20.

Jessie Creswell, B.A.

Bainonian

BLUEFIELD, WEST VIRGINIA

In the activities of the class and college Jessie could always be counted on to do her part and more. As president of our class as Juniors, and as editor-in-chief of the CHILHOWEAN, she opened our eyes to her "stick-to-it-ive-ness." And now for her, with all her good traits, we see a great future, we are glad to relate.

"Capable, dependable, and zealous in every phase of our college existence."

Secretary Suffrage Club, '17; Secretary of Sophomore Class, '17-'18; Secretary Y. W. C. A., '17-'18; Devotional Chairman, '18-'19; Delegate to Y. W. Cabinet Convention at Lebanon, Tenn., '18; President of Virginians, '19-'20; Editor-in-Chief Centennial Chilhowean, '19; President Junior Class, '18-'19; President Y. W. C. A., '19-'20; Assistant in Preparatory, '18, '19, '20; Graduate in Expression, '20.

Senior Class

Jason Basil Deyton, B.A.

Athenian

FORBES, NORTH CAROLINA

We can safely predict for Deyton a brilliant future. He is a quiet man, but one whose intelligence is far superior to the average. We feel that he will be much in the public eye in the future as Judge of the Supreme Court of the United States.

"The value of a man's life is measured in terms of action and idealism."

President of Law Club, '16-'17; Editor of Athenian, '17; President of Athenian, Winter Term, '20; Winner in Oratorical Contest, '17; Treasurer of Y. M. C. A., '19-'20; Debating Team, '20; Writer of Class Will, '20.

Helen Rebecca Gamble, B.A.

Bainonion

MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE

Although Helen finishes at an age when most people are just entering college, she is one of the most brilliant students in the class. Luckily for the Class of '20, she lives close to the hill, and no matter how great the number of visitors she has, she always feeds them, and most of us have fond memories of "hot pie and milk" at Helen's. She can always furnish original ideas for stunts, and is a fine, good sport.

"Her future is aglow with possibilities."

Vice-President Bainonian, Spring, '19; Bainonian Midwinter Committee, '20.

Senior Class

Joel Samuel Georges, B.A.

Alpha Sigma

CLAREMONT, NORTH CAROLINA

To know and know, and still not know enough; to learn and learn, and still not learn enough—that's Joel. A keen, sharp mind and an ambition to use it to its uttermost have made Joel the smartest man of his class, its orator. Knowledge is his specialty.

"Experience, joined with common sense,
To mortals is a providence."

Class Orator; Class President, '17; Class Football and Basketball, '17; Class Debate Coach, '17; School of Military Aeronautics, '18; Aerial Observers' School, '18; Intercollegiate Debates, '16-'17, '20; Mathematical Association of America, '19-'20.

Mattie Hamilton, B.A.

Bainonian

MC KENZIE, TENNESSEE

Mattie is one of those girls who is always on the job, working for the sake of work, yet knowing how to quit and go to play. Her favorite pastime is an occasional cup of coffee on ——— evenings. She is large of heart and mind, and there is nothing she will not do for a friend. The problems of life will have few terrors for this mathematical maid.

"Whose inborn worth her acts commend,
Of gentle soul, to human race a friend."

Secretary of Bainonian, Fall Term, '18; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '18-'19; Chairman of Junior Annual Committee, '19; Assistant in Physics, '18-'19; Assistant Instructor in Trigonometry, '19; Graduate in Expression, '20; Program Secretary of Bainonian, Spring Term, '20.

Senior Class

HATTIE IRENE HAYES, B.A.

Bainonian

WOODSTOCK, ALABAMA

"Hat" is a regular ray of sunshine—the kind of person that makes you feel better when you meet her. She is always aglow with enthusiasm—the kind that kindles the flame in others. Shine on, "Mascot," and brighten up your corner of the big wide world as you have our own college campus.

"She gladdens our hearts with music from her skillful fingers, and with the sunshine that ever lights her way."

Vice-President of Alabama Club, '18; Bainonian Midwinter Committee, '19; Chilhowean Staff, '19; Secretary of Bainonian, Fall Term, '20; Vice-President of Equal Suffrage League, '20; Assistant in Piano, '20.

MARY LOUISE HAYES, B.A.

Bainonian

WOODSTOCK, ALABAMA

Of the "stalwart" Seniors, "Little Un" is the most enthusiastic over athletics. A ball game finds her on the spot. She is the smallest member of the class, but her size is not to be taken as an index to her capabilities. She is one of the most popular girls on the campus. "Little Un" says, "No spinster's life for me; I'll finish with an A.M. degree."

"Small in stature, with a mind supreme, that knoweth not the meaning of the word impossible."

Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '18-'19; President Alabama Club, '18-'19; Class Basketball, '17-'19; Chilhowean Staff, '19; Editor Bainonian, Fall Term, '18; Treasurer Equal Suffrage League, '19-'20; Class Editor, '19-'20; Girls' Forensic League, '20; Chairman Senior Annual Committee; Graduate in Expression, '20; Class Poet, '20.

Senior Class

Bessie Lee Henry, B.A.

Theta Epsilon

MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE

If smiling brought riches, Bessie would be wealthy; but it brings dimples instead. She can do a host of things in excellent fashion, such as drive autos, act superbly, entertain, and make friends, lots of them. Always sunny and sensible, who can help loving her! Clouds often shade the brightest stars, but Bessie never.

"She is as clear as morning roses, newly washed with dew."

Chilhowean Staff, '19; Secretary of Class, '18-'19.

Maude Clemence Hite, B.A.

Theta Epsilon

FAIRFIELD, VIRGINIA

Be it what it may, Maude can and will do it. Always alert and ready to help others, she fills a useful place on College Hill. And with each task performed new friendships, too, are formed. She is a real cosmopolitan, whose keen ambition is to serve.

"Good, the more communicated,
The more abundant grows."

Vice-President of Y. W. C. A., '16-'17; Secretary and Treasurer of International Prohibition Association, '16-'17; Glee Club, '16-'17; Delegate to Blue Ridge Y. W. C. A. Conference, '18; Superintendent of Mission Extension, '17-'18; Editor of Student Volunteer Band, '18-'19; Theta Midwinter Committee, '18-'19; Secretary-Treasurer of Student Volunteer Band, '17-'18, '19-'20.

Senior Class

William Bryan Holmes, Jr., B.A.

Athenian

SPRINGVILLE, ALABAMA

The "father" of the class has been with us one year, and has done his best to make us laugh at all times. And though he is as solemn as a judge and seems grouchy, we know that underneath it all is an irrepressible sense of humor. We are sure that as a minister of the gospel he will accomplish much.

"It is not good that man should live alone."

Intercollegiate Debater '16, '17 (Captain), '18, '20 (Captain); Secretary Y. M. C. A., '16-'17; President Athenian, Fall Term, '16; Winter Term, '17; Secretary Ministerial Association, '16-'17.

Stacey F. Howell, B.A.

Alpha Sigma

SNOW SHOE, PENNSYLVANIA

"Stace" learns Chemistry as fast as he can talk, which is going some. He delights to tell of fierce snow storms, and laughs at the amount of snow that falls in Tennessee. His words and thoughts are set forth every week in the editorial column of the Echo.

"I would rather make tetramethyl diamidobinzophenone chloride than eat."

Class Basketball Team, '17, '18, '19; Vice-President Alpha Sigma, Fall, '18; Assistant in Chemistry, '17-'18, '18-'19; Editor-in-Chief of Highland Echo, '19-'20.

Senior Class

Minnie Anne Hunter, B.A.

Theta Epsilon

PINE KNOB, WEST VIRGINIA

Minnie is the kind of girl who puts a lot of "pep" into everything she goes into. She is jolly, happy and enthusiastic, and is one of the most prominent figures in our literary, social and dramatic activities. She has a vast store of knowledge on every conceivable subject.

"As welcome as sunshine in every place,
So the beaming approach of a good-natured face."

Secretary of Theta Epsilon, Winter, '17; Program Secretary Volunteer Band, '17-'18; Vice-President Y. W. C. A., '18-'19; Delegate to Blue Ridge, '18; Chilhowean Staff, '19; (4) M. M. (4), '18; President Equal Suffrage League, Fall Term, '20; President Theta Epsilon, Fall, '20; Chairman Theta Epsilon, Midwinter, '20; Vice-President Class, '20; Assistant in Preparatory Mathematics, '19; Graduate in Expression, '20.

Ernest Kelly James, B.A.

Alpha Sigma

MAPLE HILL, NORTH CAROLINA

He does many things and was never known to fail in one. He would honor any profession, and we are expecting to hear big things from him some day. He was an aviator a year and got used to rising high. As in his aeroplane so in his profession, we know he will go up.

"And tho' I hope not hence unscathed to go,
Who conquers me shall find a stubborn foe."

Intercollegiate Debater and Captain of Teams, '15, '16, '17, '18, '19, '20; Varsity Football, '17-'18, '19-'20; Captain of Team, '19-'20; President of Forensic League, '17-'18; Secretary and Treasurer, '19-'20; Class Treasurer, '16-'17; Vice-President Y. M. C. A., '17-'18; President Tarheel Club, '19-'20; Alpha Sigma President '19-'20, Treasurer '17-'18; Program Secretary and Critic, '16-'17; Assistant in Physics, '15-'16, '16-'17; Assistant Librarian, '17-'18; Member of "M" club; Served in Air Service U. S. Army, Dec., '17, to Sept., '19.

Senior Class

Licia Johnson, B.A.

Theta Epsilon

GRAYSVILLE, TENNESSEE

When things are dull on College Hill, "Jack" is always ready to stir up something. In spite of the fact that she was voted the biggest vamp among the Seniors, she is a shark at mathematics and psychology. Enthusiasm—that's Jack all over!

"Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm."

Secretary of Theta Epsilon, Winter, '18; Vice-President Equal Suffrage League, '19; President Theta Epsilon, Fall Term, '19-'20; Theta Epsilon Midwinter Committee, '19-'20; Vice-President Girls' Forensic League, '20; Assistant Psychology Instructor, '19-'20; Intercollegiate Debater and Captain of Team, '20.

Tracy Fitch Knapp, B.A.

Alpha Sigma

MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE

Although Tracy was originally a member of the Class of '16, and only joined us at the beginning of the winter term of our Senior year, he has become a live wire in the activities of the class. We are glad "Uncle Sam" kept him for us. "His sudden coming here has doubled all our mirth and cheer." He is a man who does his part and more in any job he undertakes.

"The elements are so mixed in him that Nature might stand up and say to all the world, 'This was a man'."

Secretary of Alpha Sigma, '14-'15; College Orchestra, '14-'15; U. S. Army, '17, '18, '19; Class Basketball Team, '14-'15; Class Tennis, '14-'15; Senior Annual Committee, '20; Class Prophet, '20. (Two years, '13 and '14, at Olivet College, Olivet, Mich.)

Senior Class

HELEN LEWIS, B.A.

Bainonian

CHATTANOOGA, TENNESSEE

"Sonny" is rarely ever seen merely walking—unless she's moonshining—for she is an energetic, practical girl with a fixed purpose. She is quite capable of taking care of herself, and is always ready to help when called upon.

"The purest treasure mortal times afford is a spotless reputation."

Member of Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '16-'17; Class Debating Team, '16-'17; Vice-President of Class, '17-'18; Graduate in Expression, '18; Chairman Bainonian Midwinter Committee, '18-'19; Assistant Loan Library, '18-'19; Clerk in College Postoffice, '18-'19; Intercollegiate Debating Team, '18-'19; Assistant Instructor in Preparatory English, '19-'20; President of Bainonian, Winter Term, '19-'20.

MARY KATE LEWIS, B.A.

Theta Epsilon

CHATTANOOGA, TENNESSEE

When Mary Kate came to us from the Class of '19 her gentle dignity gained as Professor of Preparatory French filled us with awe; but we welcomed her to our class, for we knew something of her worth. It would be useless for us to try to describe Mary Kate's many-sided personality. She can teach French, but she also displays great skill as matron, at volleyball, and in the art of moonshining.

"Rare compound of quality noble and true,
With plenty of sense and good humor, too."

Class Editor, '15-'16; Vice-President Sophomore Class, '16-'17; Secretary Theta Epsilon, '17; Theta Epsilon Midwinter Committee, '17-'18, '18-'19; President Theta Epsilon, Spring and Fall, '18; Assistant in Loan Library and Book Room, '16-'17, '17-'18; Clerk in College Postoffice, '17-'18; Vice-President Y. W. C. A., '19-'20; Instructor in Preparatory French, '18-'19, '20.

Senior Class

Rosa Emma Logan, B.A.

Theta Epsilon

PERSIA, TENNESSEE

As every student should have a firm foundation, so every student body must have a foundation of solid folks who know the meaning of work. To this class Emma belongs. She is quiet, but still water runs deep. We can say of her that she is one of the most conscientious and consecrated members of the class.

"Beauty of character includes every good of which the human heart can know, and makes the woman who possesses it a princess in Israel."

Freshman, Greensboro College for Women, Greensboro, N. C.; Instructor in Preparatory Mathematics, '19-'20.

Vera Cleo McCampbell, B.A.

Bainonian

KNOXVILLE, TENNESSEE

Vera is quiet, but she is always bright and happy. System is Vera. She believes in having a place for everything and everything in its place. The neatness of her person and her room is a revelation. Her steadiness and helpfulness have been an example to us, and we expect for her a bright future.

"She comes to us a seeker of knowledge;
She goes as a lover of duty,
An honor to her Alma Mater."

Senior Class

Addie M. McCurry, B.A.

Bainonian

MOSHEIM, TENNESSEE

When "Mac" was counting her honors she said the greatest one was a passing grade in trig. She never lets her studies interfere with her education and cuts more classes than anybody in school. In fact, she's out for a good time and feels it her duty to share her good times with others. We are glad she likes Maryville College better than Berea.

"Addie is herself—what more could we desire?"

Berea, '16-'17; Greene County Club; K. K. Club; Appalachian Club.

Willodine McIver, B.A.

Bainonian

CORDELE, GEORGIA

Yes, Georgia, spelled in capital letters, is "Billie's" home. She came to us from Cox College in the fall of '18, and we can't imagine how we ever did without her when we were Freshies. Who wants to start an argument on "keeping the niggers in their place"? Just go to Billie. She's also famed for those "boxes from home," and we believe that next year Georgia will be glad to have a good cook return from Tennessee—and not only Georgia, but someone else will be glad.

"Happiness is cheaper than worry, so why pay the higher price?"

Cox College, '16-'17; Class Basketball, '18-'19; Secretary, Editor of Georgia Club, '19; Class Poet, '18-'19; President of K. K., '19; Editor of Bainonian, Fall Term, '19; Society Reporter for Highland Echo, '19-'20.

Senior Class

JAMES MARTIN, B.A.

Athenian

MANSFIELD, OHIO

Jimmie is a diligent, hard-working student. He is always on time and is the cause of others being on time. He will make a great ladies' man when his latent powers of moonshining are developed.

"Some people think that because I wear specs I only care for learning;
Yet all the time my ardent heart with sentiment is yearning."

WINSTON CORDELIA NEWTON, B.A.

Bainonian

HARRIMAN, TENNESSEE

Music hath charms to please, and Winston is full of it. In each are nameless graces in which no methods teach. There is music wherever harmony is, and Winston is in charming harmony with all the world. Her every grace, her features, and her ways form a truly tuneful melody.

"God sent his singers upon earth
With songs of sadness and of mirth,
That they might touch the hearts of men,
And bring them back to heaven again."

Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '16-'17; Class Basketball Team, '17, '18, '19; Member of Girls' Quartette, '18, '19, '20; Certificate in Red Cross First Aid, '17; Vice-President Bainonians, Fall, '19; Vice-President Suffrage League, Fall, '19; Graduate in Voice, Fall, '19; Chilhowean Staff, '19; Secretary Equal Suffrage League, Fall, '20; President Equal Suffrage League, Winter, '20; Assistant in Voice, '20; President of Bainonian, Spring Term, '20.

Senior Class

Cerena Polk, B.A.

Bainonian

MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE

Cerena is a girl who can do anything—an asset to any group. She reads well, plays well, studies well —oh, everything! She brings joy to the hearts of all the faculty, and as a result has been made class orator. No one ever deserved an honor more than she deserves this. The whole class is proud of you, Cerena. Go on to still higher things!

"She's a shark—enough said."

Elma Aletha Purdy, B.A.

Theta Epsilon

MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE

Among Aletha's many accomplishments her ability to make pies and doughnuts excels. One thing is sure—she has the key to some man's heart. She leads a rather calm and retired life, but we are sure that with her sunny disposition she will make a host of friends wherever she goes.

"She thinks without confusion, clearly,
Loves her fellowmen sincerely,
Acts from honest motives purely."

Senior Class

Madrith Jeanette Purdy, B.A.

Theta Epsilon

MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE

Purdy has a force of character such as is seldom seen. She knows how to get things done, and is a dandy member of the eats committee. She has endeared herself to all her classmates and is just a treasure.

"Almost to all things she could turn her hand."

Class Basketball, '19; Member of Ohio Club.

Frances Catherine Ridgway, B.A.

Theta Epsilon

SAVANNAH, GEORGIA

Katie is a native of Alabama, Florida and Georgia, and seems to like Tennessee just as well as any place. From her fertile brain come a large number of class stunts which she thinks of in psychology class. She took the course of psychology and philosophy, and is seldom seen in class. She is one of the most important members of the Alligator Family and has great fame in the way of feeds.

"Her coming here has doubled all our mirth and cheer."

Stetson University, '16-'17; Class Basketball, '18, '19; Captain Class Basketball, '19; Varsity Squad, '18, '19, '20; Secretary Theta Epsilon, Fall Term, '18; Secretary Florida Club, '20; Secretary Class, '20; Member Athletic Board of Control, '20; Manager Girls' Basketball Team, '20; Theta Epsilon Midwinter Committee, '20; President of Theta Epsilon, Spring Term, '20.

Senior Class

THOMAS PHILIP SHEFFEY, B.A.

Alpha Sigma

MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE

"Oh, yes, I'll be glad to do anything I can to help," is Phil's most frequent expression. A truer, steadier man you'll never find. 'Tis a pleasure to meet him, although you meet him twenty times a day.

"To know him is to trust him."

UGEE STUMP, B.A.

Bainonian

FLATWOODS, WEST VIRGINIA

Ugee is just a fine, grand old girl. She's always ready to take part in anything from a midnight feed to a Y. W. C. A. meeting. Expression is her long suit, and we only wish we had discovered her talent before we did. Most people think Ugee extremely quiet, but she is an ideal listener.

"Those who paint her truest praise her most."

Vice-President Bainonian, Spring Term, '20.

Senior Class

Helen Bond Tedford, B.A.

Bainonian

CONCORD, TENNESSEE

We were afraid we had lost Helen for a while, for she left us with the idea of training for the profession of nursing; but she says the guy that first called sick folks "patients" made a mistake, so she decided to come back to M. C., where there is more health and less storm. We were glad, for her ready wit and good humor are a source of constant enjoyment.

"A cheerful disposition is a fund of ready capital."

Genevieve A. Tetedoux, B.A.

Theta Epsilon

NORWOOD, OHIO

"Gen" has joined us quite recently, and we are glad to have her. She is an A-No. 1 stenographer and makes use of her talent wherever possible. Her opinions are not scattered lavishly and, therefore, are prized greatly. She is lovable, earnest and conscientious—a joy to us all.

"To know her is to love her."

Vice-President Theta Epsilon, Winter Term, '19; Treasurer Ohio Club, '18-'19.

Senior Class

Mary Estelle Thompson, B.A.

Bainonian

SALEM, INDIANA

'Tis strange how so small a girl can have so big a heart. Mary is just a little, sweet, unaffected, unpretentious girl, grown sensible and splendidly serious. All who know her love her, and she is very well known.

"To be good is to be happy; angels
Are happier than mankind because they are better."

Treasurer Y. W. C. A., '16-'17; Class Basketball Team, '16, '17, '19.

Homer George Weisbecker, B.A.

Alpha Sigma

FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

"Weisie" is the kind of fellow it does you good to meet. His smile is just about as broad as any you ever saw. He is an all-around athlete—football, basketball and baseball; Weisie stars in them all. His popularity is attested by his many friends. He has borne the responsibility of Senior treasurer admirably, and just ask anyone who has collected odd cents from forty-five more or less "broke" Seniors if there is any fun in it.

"The cheerful grin will let you in Where the knocker is never known."

Prize Essay, '16; President of Indiana Club, '16-'17; Intercollegiate Debating Team, '19; Winner in M. B. Hunter Gold Medal Oratorical Contest, '19; President of Yankee Club, '19; Vesper Choir, '17-'19; College Male Quartette, '19; All Class Teams from '16 to '20; Varsity Baseball, '19; Varsity Football, '19; Varsity Basketball, '17, '18, '19; Tennis, '19; Coach of Girls' Varsity Basketball and Tennis, '16, '17, '19, '20; Coach of Boys' Basketball, '19; Physical Director, '15-'20; Class Treasurer, '19-'20; U. S. Navy, '18-'19; Debate, '19-'20; President Alpha Sigma, Fall '19; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '17-'18.

AMONG the number who came to us from the Centennial Class were two who could remain in the Class of '20 for the fall term alone—Andrew Thomas Norgan, of Drunmore, Pa., and Thomas Lamar McConnell, of Maryville, Tenn. We were sorry to lose them and have missed them frequently since they left. To these men the Class of '20 says: We were glad to have you one short term, and while we know it would not be fair to expect you to love our class as you loved your own, still we hope you do not regret having been with us. In future years, when you have climbed to great heights of fame, every member of the M. C. Class of '20 will be sending you thoughts of good will and be able to say: "We wish you bon voyage. Go on to higher things."

Senior Poem

Seems all dark, O Class of Twenty?
Light is just ahead;
Life and light all is not night,
Wisdom light will shed.
Nobly you've been fighting
Battles not forgot;
Prepare still to fight, with a goal in sight,
No matter what your lot.

Morning breaks, O Class of Twenty!
Early wake and strive
In life's hard race, where'er your place,
Be first at the goal to arrive.
Make that goal, O Senior,
One that's worth your while;
And work with your might, from morning till night,
Though you must run many a mile.

Some things wait, O Class of Twenty,
For you alone to do;
Do all with great zest; you'll be a success
If you keep steadfast and true.
To you your Alma Mater
Has given her very best
Ideals noble and pure, and you may be sure
She expects you to do the rest.

(With Apologies to Thomas Gray)

The curfew tolls the knell of parting day;
The tired Junior Class says, "How can it be
That we have no time taken for play,
Should have yet so much to do? Dear me!"

Now fades from out their grasp ball games galore;
Moonshine for them no strong attraction holds,
And all the pleasures that they loved before
Are swept aside when they their task behold.

Save the fun that they can so well evoke
From photos gay and solemn in their turn,
Of such as ne'er before were put in book,
And not again shall some that merit earn.

Beneath these various facts they can see,
With all exterior laid aside,
The impulses noble of the souls so free,
That from the world their talents cannot hide.

Thus with new strength the class takes up its work,
And, all inspired, this task they do complete.
Record the deeds of those who never shirk;
Success foretell, that shall them ever greet.

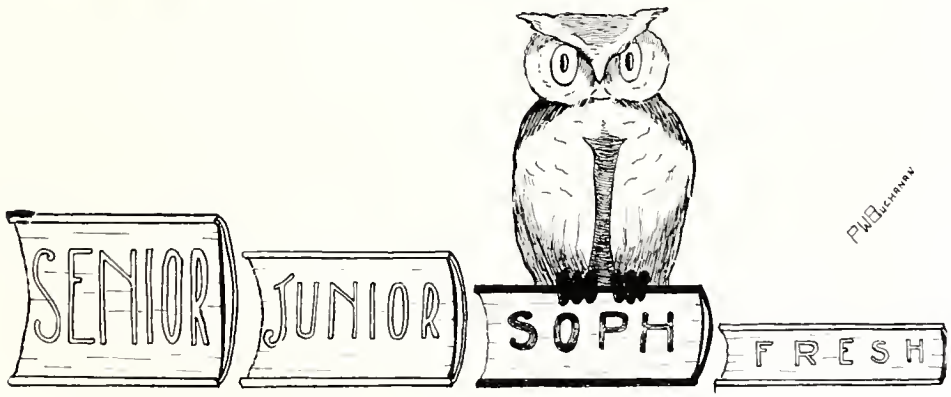
SOPHOMORE



Oh, it's great to be a Senior,
  With your head a-towering high!
And that a Junior's dignified
  There's no one will deny.

The Freshie, too, is nice and sweet,
  And green as woods in May;
But the jolly "Soph," he has 'em beat
  On any summer's day.

He laughs and the world laughs with him,
  She never weeps at all;
They're out for fun and they get it,
  Whichever way things may fall.

Not even Seniors daunt 'em,
  And Juniors never try;
While moonshine laws, 'tho like the Medes',
  They manage to get by.

All hail the dear old Sophies!
  The bunch that's out for fun.
Where things are doing, work or play,
  You'll find 'em everyone.

-1923-

Freshmen! Freshmen!

HERE we are! See us! Hear us! Look at us! Did you ever see such a class as the Class of '23 with its 223 members? We have come from all over these United States of ours—from the seashores of Florida; from the cotton fields of Mississippi, Alabama, and Georgia; from the bluegrass regions of Kentucky; from the historic Carolinas and Virginia; from Maryland and across the dashing Ohio; from the rich oil fields of Pennsylvania; from conservative New Jersey; from busy, bustling New York; from the boisterous Atlantic, on beyond the rolling waters of the Mississippi far into the prairies of the West; from the grassy plains of Texas; from mountainous Colorado; from blizzardy Missouri; from the great corn belts of Illinois and Iowa; even from the sun-kissed plains of New Mexico; and from all parts of our own dear Tennessee.

We are proud of our large class, but we are even prouder of the fact that our class is such a good all-'round one. You will find us on the football field, on the basketball court, on the baseball diamond—in fact, the Freshmen are sure to be found where there is any kind of athletics. Then, too, you will find us among the debaters, in the choir, in the orchestra; yea, you will find us even among the moonshiners.

We know that the next three years hold much in store for us, and it is with glad hearts that we look toward the future.

Class History of 1920

IN the year 1916, early in September, there set sail over the Sea of Knowledge a magnificent fleet proudly bearing the floating banners of Orange and Garnet. This fleet was headed for a far and distant country called the Land of Graduation, which could be reached only after a long voyage of four years.

Some of the voyage was understood to be very hard and difficult, and under some very cross and saucy commanders. Other parts of the voyage would be pleasant and smooth sailing. This route was much traveled, but was to them unknown sea. There were the four isles—First Prep and Second Prep, or the land of wise fools; Third Prep and Seniors, or the habitation of owls—to be thoroughly explored before reaching their destination.

The crew on board the vessel was composed of sixty-one hopeful boys and girls from eight states, each firmly resolved to succeed or go down with the ship.

Here we first became aware of our existence as a potential factor in life at Maryville College. We now began to realize that we had duties and responsibilities as well as privileges. We early decided to be peaceful and friendly toward one another.

Our class has put out some of the most efficient athletes on the hill, and is represented in the Junior Forensic League by three of our most distinguished members—Franklin, King, and Corry.

We have always had the spirit for the upbuilding of Maryville College, the finisher of our preparatory career. As Senior Preps, we do not claim any honors, of course, notwithstanding the fact that we are the most brilliant class ever graduated by our esteemed faculty.

"Not enjoyment and not sorrow
Is our destined end and way,
But to act that each tomorrow
Finds us farther than today."

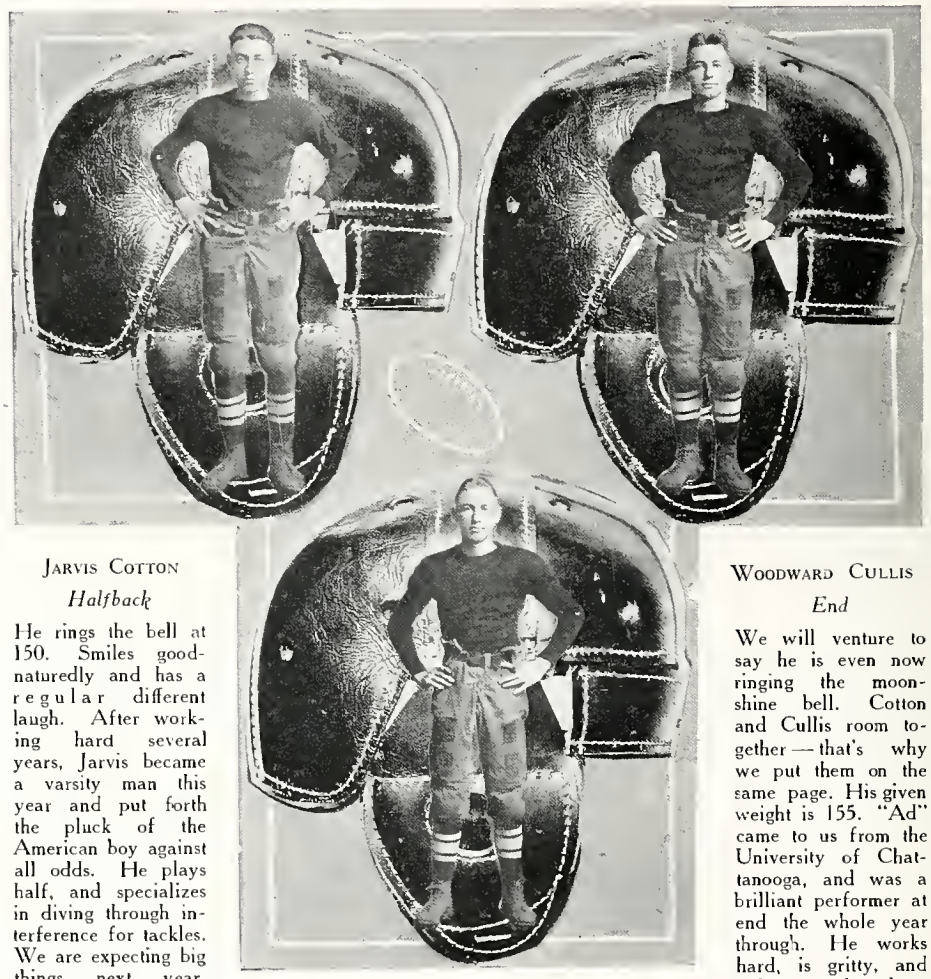
FOOTBALL



JARVIS COTTON

Halfback

He rings the bell at 150. Smiles good-naturedly and has a regular different laugh. After working hard several years, Jarvis became a varsity man this year and put forth the pluck of the American boy against all odds. He plays half, and specializes in diving through interference for tackles. We are expecting big things next year, Cotton.

WOODWARD CULLIS

End

We will venture to say he is even now ringing the moonshine bell. Cotton and Cullis room together — that's why we put them on the same page. His given weight is 155. "Ad" came to us from the University of Chattanooga, and was a brilliant performer at end the whole year through. He works hard, is gritty, and enjoys running down the field with recovered fumbles. He will shine — some more.

EDWARD CULLIS

Halfback

This lad, with the other one above, "Ad," completes the Cullis brothers' combination. This is Maryville's first brother combination in a good many years, and we are wishing it more successful seasons. Ed ploughs through tackle and takes them low like the back he is.

LESLIE DAVIDSON

Halfback

Have you ever seen a pacer travel? Well, when Davy gets those white ankle bandages on and gets a-going, he fulfills the travel part, if not the pacer. Davy tips the beam at 150. He was a little late getting started this year, but we know he's getting ready even now for next.

HOBART FORD

Tackle

"Watch that boy." We want to call someone good, so we are going to call Hobart. He was a power in the line, and could be elected to the peerage. Weight, 165. Second year on varsity. Good news: There are more to come.

EDWARD JELLICORSE

Fullback

We can say that "Jelly" is the man of the bunch, and we are going to petition the juvenile court to have that name changed to "horse." Many a one has said, "He has more natural football ability than anyone I've seen in a long time." Heavyweight No. 1—200 pounds. Second year on varsity. Captain for next year.

F. McLaughlin

Center

Behold our playing manager. Mac has tossed that ball back from center for several years and he's perfectly at home at it. Mac was an accurate passer, an aggressive charger, and broke through the opposition for many tackles. Weight, 180. His last year for the Orange and Garnet he has served so long.

Meade Johnson

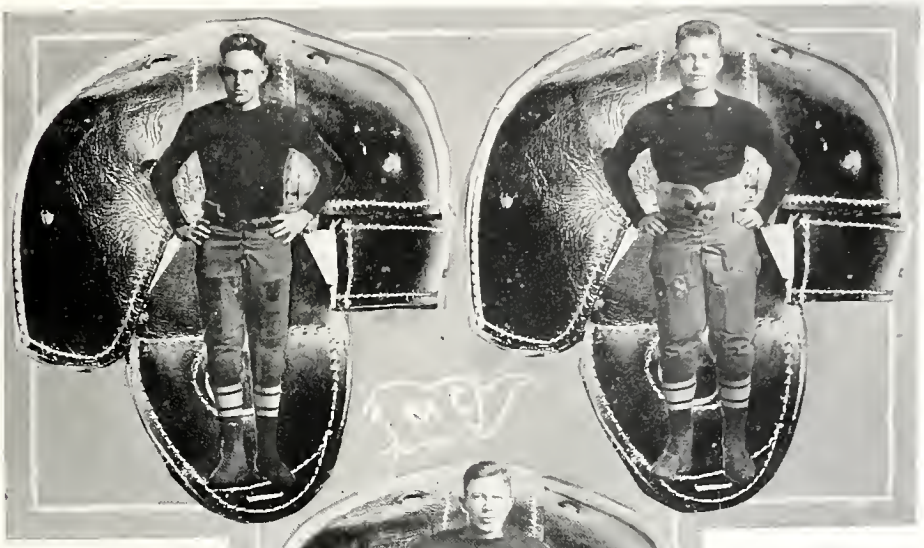
Tackle

We present for your approval, men of the hall, smiling Meade Johnson. Meade was a valuable asset at left tackle, for all like the fellows who have fight and more fight. Heavyweight No. 2—190 pounds. Next year, as manager, he expects to complete his third year for M. C.

Edward Moore

End

Above you will find a picture of the tall boy of our squad, Mr. Ed Moore. He's a good fellow—we'll all say—and what more can be asked for on this hill that we call college home? We will add, though, that he's a good football player and just delights in hauling in long passes. Weight 155 pounds. This is Ed's first year, he having been across the waters, but there's much in store for him.



JULIAN SULLIVAN

Guard

From the way this fellow plays the game you would think he came from the largest Cleveland in the country. Sully was great, and he finished several games when it took sand to keep going. This picture has been approved, so we will write below the weight—175 pounds. What a line M. C. will have next year with men like this to build on!

HARRY WAGNER

Halfback

Being generous in your time, pause here for the last of a quartet of halfbacks. This is "Wag's" second enlistment, and his game was open-field running. Weight, 160. Characteristic, laughter. An old-timer we are counting on to help again.

HOMER WEISBECKER

Quarterback

We have sized off, and "Shorty" comes last. This is a good-looking "outfit," but even now it is being replaced by cap and gown. New at the game, but a trained gymnast, he took hold at quarter and ran the team well. "S" stands for "Shorty" and "Speed." Weight, 145. We are with you Seniors of the squad.

The Season of 1919

THE central part of the front page of the first Echo of the year was filled with an article headed, "Prospects for a Champion Football Team Are Good."

Coach H. W. Feeman came to Maryville as athletic director, and with "Doc" at the lead enthusiasm ran high. "Jimmy" James was elected to the captaincy to pilot the team through, and he did, and the season was under way.

The opening practice found perhaps the largest and ablest squad out on the athletic field working for the team that had ever been there. With James, Jellicorse, Johnson, Norgan, McLaughlin, Davidson, Tulloch, Ford, Wagner, and Hayes returning from the service after experience on former varsity elevens; and McCall, Hicks, and Cotton from the S. A. T. C. team, Coach Feeman had a wealth of material in experienced football men. New men in the squad fought hard for places, while injuries, especially to Tulloch, Hayes, and Hicks, eliminated some of the old men. New ones were the Cullis brothers, Moore, and Sullivan, as worthy actors for the Orange and Garnet.

Every person on the "hill" squared away for the University of Tennessee game. A half-holiday was declared, and a trainload of students journeyed to Knoxville and Wait Field. Tennessee won, 32 to 2. Superior weight and practice gave them a decided advantage. Maryville played hard and Maryville rooters completely outyelled the State's supporters. But still Tennessee won.

The first home game was with Cumberland University. Completely outmatching the visitors, Maryville won, 32 to 3. Cumberland's score will long be remembered by the almost perfect dropkick by their fullback from beyond the 35-yard line. It was in this game that the strong points of the team showed to advantage—Jellicorse with his end runs, Ed Cullis and Cotton with off-tackle plays, and Ford and Ad Cullis in the line. Weisbecker, new at the game, here worked well at quarter.

The next week found Maryville facing the University of Oglethorpe. The Petrels had been going strong, and the Atlanta papers were boosting them as a great team. They were, and a great game followed. Maryville outclassed them throughout and won, 14 to 7. It was splendid football, with not a fumble on either side; not a substitution for Maryville, and but one for Oglethorpe. We can still see Cullis receiving that pass and carrying it across, and Weisbecker, with a tie score, running the ball back on a punt some sixty-five yards to the goal and to victory, and Knox, Oglethorpe full, racing through the entire team on a kick-off for a touchdown. The game was indeed a thriller, and the bonfire and snake dance that occurred that night on the "hill" was a complete one in celebration of victory.

Maryville faced Georgetown the next Saturday—Georgetown, next in Kentucky after Centre College; Georgetown, with its wonderful interference. A hard struggle followed, with Georgetown winning, 13 to 7.

Emory and Henry came from Virginia the next week, but being considerably outweighed, they were snowed under, 49 to 12. During this game the best open field running of the year was shown by Maryville backs—Jellicorse, Wagner, and Davidson.

And then Tusculum. Well, it was at Tusculum, and the score, 0-0, shows the kind of a game it was. The fight was there, as "Ignatz" would say. Tusculum, with many old-timers back from the service, was reputed to have its best team. Too much cannot be said for the old reliables in this game—Jellicorse, with his punting and running that made him feared by every team he faced; Cotton, with his playing that marks him a real halfback; Ford and Sullivan, for that old fight in the line; Cullis, for the splendid way he finished the season on end.

And there's a host of other good ones, all good fellows, and they gave Maryville a good team and a successful season.

Girls' Basketball

AT the beginning of the basketball season this year there was more real enthusiasm than had ever been shown before at Maryville. The new material, with a few old players, enabled Maryville to put cut one of the strongest teams in her history. This success can in a large measure be credited to the untiring loyalty and efforts of the girls of the squad. The team was able to beat all opponents from "Sunny Tennessee," and lost but one game, that to Martha Washington College, a Virginia girls' school. Our antagonist and bitter cpponent, the University of Tennessee, suffered two overwhelming defeats. Two trips were taken during the season, one to Kentucky and the other to Virginia.

All credit and honor is due to the girls of the team, who were recognized as in a class by themselves when the whistle started the ball in play. Elsie Dawson and Blanche Bailey, as forwards, showed speed and steadiness and scored heavily in all of the games. Marjorie Lloyd, at center, was a power of aggressiveness and always outplayed her opposing center. When the ball changed to the opposition's territory the hearts of the Maryville bleacherites held steady, for with strength and skillful passwork, Cora Ingle and Anne Samsel, as guards, made it difficult for the opposing forward to score.

Basketball

MARYVILLE can well be proud of the record of her team in 1920. During the first week of varsity practice it was noticed that some ten or twelve men seemed evenly matched in ability. From these the team was gradually shaped by Coach Feeman, and Maryville began what was undoubtedly its best season with its best team.

At one time the Southern Intercollegiate Championship was at stake in the Vanderbilt game, and perhaps if that game had been played the next night in that large gym, when the Highlanders defeated the Ramblers, who had beaten Vanderbilt, maybe the championship flag would have floated over College Hill. Nuf sed!

Prominent among victories were those over Centre College, University of Tennessee, and the Ramblers of Nashville Y. M. C. A.

Manager Horace Brown arranged a trip to Kentucky, playing there Berea, Centre, University of Kentucky, and Union; and another trip to Middle Tennessee, playing there Vanderbilt, Nashville Y. M. C. A., and Middle Tennessee Normal. On each trip but one game was lost.

In Carter, center, Maryville found its first really great center. Tall, consistent, aggressive, a splendid basket-shooter, he proved the cog long needed for a topnotch team. Maryville has long been favored with forwards. At this position was Captain Wagner, a veteran and a general of passing and floor work; Cotton, another veteran and steady goal-thrower and all-around man; and Hendricks, a Nashville High School star, whose strongest point was ringing them in. For guards, Cullis and Montgomery worked to bring comment in nearly every game on every court. It has been claimed they have been unequaled here in many seasons. Cullis comes from the University of Chattanooga; Montgomery was a guard for three years on one of Ohio's best high school teams.

It was a great season. Coach Feeman can be complimented on the success of the team. The men will all likely return next year, and with the old fellowship, pep and basketball we look to 1921.

Baseball in 1919

WITH the winter season here at the time of this writing, we can only look backward to last year's team, and then again forward to this year's. Maryville had a successful season last year, even though Lincoln Memorial came here and won the Eastern Tennessee Championship. A splendid winning streak was developed in the middle of the season and eight straight games were won. Prospects were splendid for a complete victory over University of Tennessee, but the "dope" was upset when they won both games played.

Weisbecker and McLaughlin proved the mainstays in the box, both men turning in for Maryville some pretty victories.

Even now, at the close of the February meetings, the fans are talking baseball. Of the old men, Lowry, Ruble, Davidson, Weisbecker, and Wagner are on the "hill" again, and there are many accounts of new men who are past masters at the game. After such successful football and basketball seasons, we are confident that Commencement Day will find Coach Feeman with a winning club.

Y. W. C. A.

THE year '19-'20 marks the beginning of a new century of M. C. It also marks the growth and the division of the Y. W. C. A. into a Junior and Senior organization.

The reason for separating this great Christian association was to give the younger girls a chance to participate in weekly meetings.

But this does not tend to sever their bond of fellowship. Each night both Senior and Junior girls meet in groups for Scripture reading and prayer. This is an entirely new movement, and it is the hope of the girls that it will be made permanent. Each morning they meet in one group for thanksgiving and to ask for guidance through the coming day.

The Mission Study Class meets weekly, and is led by Miss Ethel Fanson. This meeting draws the girls closer to the great Teacher and creates in them a desire to follow His example by helping others, for "God had an only Son, and He was a missionary and teacher."

As for the social life, the Y. W. affords for the girls various kinds of entertainments, such as hikes and "know-your-neighbor" parties. Other than this, the association furnishes the students with at least one recital of outside talent, besides the ones given by the Expression and Music Departments. This year Miss Hortense Neilson entertained us in her highly dramatic fashion, while the Expression Department presented "Prunella," directed by Mrs. West.

Young Men's Christian Association

Much of the Christian work on College Hill is carried on under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. This year many religious movements have been carried on for the advancement of the Kingdom of God and for the strengthening and upbuilding of Christian character. Several different kinds of Christian activities have been promoted by the Y. M. C. A. in order to enlist as many young men as possible in active Christian work and to create a Christian atmosphere, by which the entire hill has been benefited. It is the aim of the organization to make Christianity really mean something to those who are conscientiously endeavoring to do something for those about them and for Christ, and to cultivate habits of usefulness which will be of service in future life.

INNER CIRCLES

Small prayer circles have been organized on all the floors of Carnegie Hall. Each night when the lights flash the young men from three or four rooms get together for a short time to pray and to read and study a portion of God's Word. Each group has its own leader, and the Leader to whom all look for strength and guidance is Jesus Christ. The purpose of the inner circles is to become better acquainted with each other, with our Bible and with Jesus, and to draw each member nearer to God.

BIBLE DISCUSSION GROUPS

Each floor in Carnegie Hall constitutes a group, and another group is made up of young men rooming in town. The latter group has its meetings in the reading room of Bartlett Hall, while the other groups have their meetings in some room on their respective floors in Carnegie Hall. These groups meet each Sunday morning for Bible reading, prayer, and a short discussion of some phase of Christian life.

LEADERS TRAINING CONFERENCE

In connection with the Bible discussion groups, the leaders and the assistants of all the groups meet on Friday nights for a short conference. The purpose of the conference is to prepare for the discussion which takes place in each of the groups on the following Sunday morning. Dr. Stevenson, the college pastor, leads the conference and offers practical suggestions and helpful hints which encourage, stimulate and promote a closer relationship among the leaders, which in turn is passed on to those attending the discussions on Sunday morning. Also, any puzzling problems which arise during the group discussions and are not settled are brought to this conference for settlement and for further discussion.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON MEETINGS

These meetings have been unusually good this year because of the many varied and very interesting topics discussed by the best whose service we could secure. That the meetings have been good is evident from the large number who have attended these meetings each Sunday afternoon. These meetings are made entertaining and attractive, as well as instructive and helpful, by the musical numbers rendered, by the variety of subjects handled, and by the complete change of program and leader each week.

Y. M. C. A. STORE

In addition to the reading room, in which are placed several current magazines, papers and books, a special inducement has been introduced in the Y. M. C. A. building in order to draw the young men to the Y. M. C. A., instead of going to town to loaf. This special attraction is the Y. M. C. A. store, which is operated under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet. The purpose of the store is to supply the young men with the things which they would otherwise go to town to secure.

The February Meeting

THE February meeting is the one thing in which all the religious organizations of the hill unite each year. This year, when everything else is unusual in that it is exceptionally good—the enrollment the largest yet, athletics the most successful—it is no surprise that the February meetings should be the best in many a year. Early in the term Dr. Wilson asked Mr. Hammontree if he could come and lead the singing during the meetings, and lo! he not only came, but brought with him Mel Trotter, the noted evangelist; the American Quartette, and Dick Oliver, pianist. With such a corps of enthusiastic and efficient Christian workers, all of whom are deeply consecrated and in close communion with God, the college and even the town was mightily moved. The old chapel was packed as it had never been before, extra seats were placed in every conceivable place, and yet by the time the services began at night there was not even standing room for the eager throng.

The music was one noteworthy feature of the meetings. "Dick" is a skillful musician, trained as a concert pianist, who has dedicated his talent to the service of God. To hear him play "Rock of Ages" or "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Me" was a sermon in itself. His accompaniments made both the special music and the congregational singing full of life and spirit. Homer Hammontree is a graduate of the college and closely in touch with it yet, and knew exactly what songs were needed and how to make us sing them. He had boys and girls who had not sung this year singing heartily "Brighten the Corner Where You Are," "Saved by His Hand," and "Sweeter as the Years Go By." His solo work was especially enjoyed, too. The "American Four" sang the gospel story into our hearts. We could have listened for hours while they sang, "Still With Thee," or "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." And as Mr. Trotter said, "They were sharks for personal work, every one of them." They went about it in a sensible, matter-of-fact way that opened our eyes and made many of us who had never dared do such a thing before learn the joy of helping bring a soul to Christ.

"Dick" Oliver, Accompanist

"Mel" Trotter won the hearts of the students the first night—his strong, earnest personality won their admiration; his message, burning with denunciation of all sin and love for God, caused many to stop and take stock of their lives and find out exactly where they stood. He put old truths in original ways which opened up their true meaning to us. Some of his sayings keep ringing in our ears:

"You can't go far unless you have the real stuff."

"It is as divine to laugh as to cry."

"Why halt ye between two opinions? A halting man has no opinion."

"The gospel is ahead of every new movement; it always leads; it never drags."

"God is the source of all revivals; revivals can't be worked up."

"There is no short cut to righteousness."

"There will be no good people. Heaven is made up of redeemed sinners."

"The gospel I preach is not a flabby gospel; it is not a cheap gospel. It costs to live right. But how much more it costs to live wrong!"

"God has no terms to offer; you cannot compromise with Him; you must make an unconditional surrender."

"Do you know that God is lonely for real fellowship? Just love Him sometimes. He is hungry for love."

"God is an addition, not a subtraction."

Just as nations use the year of Christ's birth from which to date their records, so many people will date events in their lives from the February meetings of 1920, for there they met Jesus face to face and became intimately acquainted with Him, whom to know aright is life everlasting. The cards showed that over four hundred made decisions during the meetings, over two hundred of which were deciding for Christ for the first time. The others were reconsecrating their lives to Him who came to give them abundant life. The increased importance that the student body as a whole places on prayer and Bible study, and the eagerness with which it attends Dr. Stevenson's classes on how to live the Christian life, shows how deeply it has been moved. None of us can ever tell just how great has been the influence of this year's February meetings.

Alpha Sigma

AS this year, 1919-'20, the one hundred and first year of Maryville College, has been in many respects the greatest in its history, so, too, it has been one of the greatest years of the Alpha Sigma Literary Society. Since its organization in 1882 the influence of the society has steadily increased in college affairs, and the climax has been reached this year. In every phase of college activity the spirit of the Alpha Sigmas has been felt.

In its every undertaking the society has brought more honor on itself. The yearly midwinters are the most conspicuous criteria that show publicly the progress and efficiency of work of literary societies. The Alpha Sigma midwinter, "The Man Without a Country," set a high mark in the history of the college for such occasions. And in other phases of college work the Alpha Sigmas have shown their worth. On all athletic teams, in the religious and literary work of the college we have had our full share of representatives. They all have added to the reputation of the society.

There is a deep spirit of union and comradeship existing among the members of the society. We have been jealous of our choice of new men; and we older ones who are soon to leave the society know surely that its traditions are in the hands of a splendid sort of vigorous, zealous, clean, active men, who will bear its standard still higher in the years to come. We would not forget our sister society, the Theta Epsilons. Their co-operation made possible the success of our midwinter; it is to them we are indebted for new furnishings in our hall; and the feeling of relationship to them has made us more eager to keep our society at the very peak.

Then forward, Alpha Sigma! Your traditions are rich with the deeds of those who have gone before; you stand now at the highest step so far attained; and there are still higher steps beyond that await you. Strive to ascend and you will ascend in your striving.

THROUGHOUT its long history the Athenian Literary Society stands second to none. In every activity for the last fifty-two years the Athenians have played an honorable part. Among its graduates are the most honored of Maryville's men. Among its present members are leaders of merit in many college activities.

The year of accomplishment has been followed by the year of progress. At the beginning of the year there were only a few members back on the "Hill," but due to the energy and enthusiasm of these the membership of the society more than doubled. At the annual camp fire, held at "Uncle Joe McIlvain's," a never-to-be-forgotten scene was witnessed when sixty-five acknowledged their allegiance to the Athenian Literary Society. Remarkable progress was evidenced as the annual midwinter placed these men in the limelight. With practically all new men, the society staged Drinkwater's stupendous production, "Abraham Lincoln," in a manner that will be remembered by all who saw the simplicity, the impartiality and the magnanimity of "Abe" as drawn by the great English playwright. Such a midwinter could not help but be a success, and it was from every point of view. The play was presented without a flaw; the audience was held in breathless suspense from the first word to the last. When the curtain fell on the last tragic scene—the assassination of Lincoln—the audience knew that they had seen a masterpiece.

Progress, too, has been made in the annual oratorical contest. At the close of the Centennial year, Mr. C. T. French, of Albuquerque, New Mexico, donated a gold medal as a prize in the field of oratory. The first contest is to be held this year. The Junior Athenians were also recipients of a prize—"The Parks Prize"—donated by H. Parks, of Harriman, Tennessee. Thus a new stimulus was given to both societies. The success of the year's work is due in no small measure to the co-operation of the Juniors.

The remarkable progress of the Athenian this year is due to the democratic spirit and the good-fellowship pursued by its officers and members. The society has striven consistently to overcome petty, selfish politics that makes college activities close activities. The society stands for freedom in every activity. This policy has produced the man invaluable in Maryville College ideals; it has taught the conditions of real world problems, and how the Maryville man must meet them. The society has interwoven the interests of its members with the interests of the college, and there has been created in the mind of everyone the need of honoring Alma Mater. The members of the Athenian stand shoulder to shoulder to uphold the college's traditions; they stand ready to defend its honor on the forensic platform. The society goes forward, never to let the intellectual light kindled by its honored members grow dim, never to let the glory of our Alma Mater sink into oblivion.

Bainonian Literary Society

In this year, the first year of a new century of the college, Bainonian has kept pace with the unusual growth of the college.

Her membership has increased greatly. With new life comes new interest and new inspiration; this has been manifested in the interesting programs which have been rendered weekly.

Bainonian has a complex aim. She seeks to promote the love of literary work, an ability to appear in public, and good fellowship among her members.

Her spirit, which upholds only that which is noble, embodies itself in the hearts of her members and points out to them the way for better and higher service in the world.

A SCENE FROM "PETER PAN," BAINONIAN MIDWINTER

Theta Epsilon

THETA EPSILON, the society of "eloquent sisters," is indeed worthy of its name. One of the virtues of the ancient Greeks was their eloquence. Although centuries separate the ancient Greeks from our society of today, yet the old Greek ideals still linger with us and are epitomized in our name.

The enrollment this year of one hundred and fifty-six members far exceeds any previous year. Not only has the society grown in number, but in strength, knowledge and fellowship with one another. Every Theta is ready and willing to help a sister Theta over some difficult path. Loyalty is indeed our motto. Each year brings added strength, new ideals and nobler work.

One important feature which cannot be overlooked is the excellent co-operation of the members. This is shown by the weekly meeting. The programs have been wide-awake and helpful. Every girl has felt it her duty to see that at least her part of the program was carried out successfully.

The annual midwinter this year was a presentation of "Armageddon." This play dealt with one of the biggest issues of the recent war—with one of the many questions the war propounded—that had to be answered: Had we the right to take revenge for admitted atrocities? The chief aim of the play was to show the emotions and powers that were behind the war. Each player showed an unusual amount of dramatic power.

What can daunt our efforts with such prospects before us? Think you that we, with a membership composed of a goodly number of accomplished musicians and readers, to say nothing of the artists and writers, have any cause to doubt our future strength?

The question of every girl is: "What have I done for Theta?" First, I have attended regularly. I have responded to every call of Theta for help. "What has Theta done for me?" Increased my general knowledge and understanding; given me a deeper insight into the lives of those around me, and has given me a lasting fellowship with my sister Thetas.

OFFICERS OF BOYS' FORENSIC LEAGUE

OSCAR STANTON . . . . . President
JAS. B. DEYTON . . . . . Vice-President
E. K. JAMES . . . . Secretary and Treasurer
PROF. E. R. HUNTER . Faculty Representative

THE Forensic League, organized to stimulate a deeper interest in debate and to effect a response to this interest, is a leading factor in the discovery and development of forensic talent on the "Hill." This year, Prof. Hunter, representing the league, effected an Intercollegiate Forensic League, composed of several colleges and universities of Virginia and Tennessee, which guarantees as many contests as the college can afford. In accordance with this arrangement, a triangular debate was arranged with Tusculum and Emory and Henry, and a dual debate with Lincoln Memorial University. For these debates sixteen men were chosen from upwards of fifty candidates who debated in the preliminaries.

The subject for the triangular debate was the immigration question, Maryville winning both decisions. The affirmative team, composed of W. B. Holmes (captain), Herrick Arnold, Ralph Ogan, and Homer Weisbecker (alternate), debated Tusculum on the home floor. The negative team, composed of E. K. James (captain), Oscar Stanton, Frank Minarik, Morgan Cox (alternate), debated Emory and Henry at Emory.

The subject for the dual debate is government ownership and operation of coal mines. The affirmative will be upheld on the home floor by Jason B. Deyton (captain), James Martin, Thomas Vance, and R. A. Armstrong (alternate), while Joel S. Georges (captain), F. Cody, Charles McClure, and Forrest Brown (alternate), will uphold the negative at Harrogate. We are warranted in feeling confident that two more decisions will be added to the long list of victories won since the organization of the league.

In the fall of 1919 a movement was started among the girls to organize for work in debating. From this developed the Girls' Forensic League. Arrangements have been made by the coach, Prof. Hunter, for a double debate with Tusculum on April 26. A subject of international interest has been agreed upon: "Resolved, That England Should Recognize Ireland as an Independent Nation."

The affirmative team is composed of Licia Johnson (captain), Ruth McCall, Edith Moore, and Janet Ensign (alternate); the negative, Mildred Campbell (captain), Mary Louise Hayes, Bernice Kimball, and Josephine Hamilton (alternate).

Much enthusiasm has been aroused, as is shown by the number of contestants in the preliminary and from the fact that the members of the league represent every college class.

The officers of the Junior Forensic League are: Edward Hargraves, president; Verton Queener, vice-president; Sam Franklin, Jr., secretary; Cazwell Johnstone, editor. This league was organized for the promotion of oratory and debate in the Preparatory Department. A dual debate has been arranged with the Preparatory Department of Tusculum College. The teams for this debate are as follows: Affirmative—Sam Franklin, Jr. (captain), Verton Queener, Charles Maye, Floyd Corry (alternate). Negative—Cazwell Johnstone (captain), David King, David Friedman, Edward Hargraves (alternate).

To cram, or not to cram, that's the question.
Whether 'tis nobler for the soul to suffer
The pain and anguish of a "C,"
Or cram until the birds of morning twitter
And get an "A." I ask thee which is fitter.

Full many a gem of purest ray serene
The dark and unfathomed caves of ocean bear;
Full many a shrimpish Freshman green
May raise a lofty pompadour with care.

Oh, where can a man get a cap for his knee,
Or a key for the lock of his hair?
Can his eyes be called an assembly
Because there are pupils there?
In the crown of his head what gems are found?
Who travels the bridge of his nose?
Can he use, when shingling the roof of his mouth,
The nails on the end of his toes?
Can the crook of his elbow be sent to jail?
If so, what could he do?
How does he sharpen his shoulder blades?
I'll be hanged if I know; do you?
Can he sit in the shade of the palms of his hands,
Or beat on the drum of his ear?
Does the calf on his leg eat the corn on his toes?
If so, why not grow corn on his ear?

Examination Questions as Answered by Pre-Med Students

Write a paragraph on the frog.

What a funny bird the frog are!
When he sit he almost lie,
When he jump he almost fly.
He has no sense at all hardly.
How extremely interesting an amphibia is the animura!
He habitates almost universally on aqua pura.
His toes are webbed on his hind feet,
His legs are also good to eat.
What a wonderful creature is the frog!
When he stand he sit almost,
When he sit he lie almost.
He is greatly lacking in imagination.
The frog is seldom ambidexterous.
This characteristic is especially in and by the tree frog.

Give four characteristics of the frog.

1. Right front foot webbed.
2. Left front foot webbed.
3. Right hind foot webbed.
4. Left hind foot webbed.

Give the properties of sulphur.

Sicily is three-fourths sulphur.

Oscar Stanton (collecting pictures): "Well, Dean Barnes, how about your pictur for the annual?"

The Dean: "All right now, Mr. Stanton; I'm telephoning Mr. Webb every day."

Madame (translating to the French class): "The eyes shine as a headlight."

Leslie Jones (repeating): "The eyes shine from a light head."

August Johnson—"Are you taking gym?"

T. J. Marler (another Freshman)—"No, I think it is smallpox."

Senior (gleefully)—"Dr. Gillingham says he enjoyed teaching our theism class more than any class he has ever taught."

Junior (disgustedly)—"Huh! he says that to every class; but just wait till next year when he gets us."

Senior—"Yes, he enjoys teaching ignorant people."

Junior—"No wonder he enjoyed your class!"

Mary—"Percy, what you say is too much like a root."
Percy—"Why?"
Mary—"It is always modified."

* * *

Prof. Southwick (noticing that Mary and Ash, on the back seat, were not paying attention to him), asked: "Miss Clayton, where is the seat of reason?"
To which she replied: "On the back seat."

Miss Jackson—"Yes, dear; these week-ends that are so nice for you girls are mighty hard on me. Why, when Tuesday comes there is nothing left of me."

* * *

Mrs. Alexander—"What is the theme of Thanatopsis?"
Addie Fine—"The conservation of matter."

* * *

Carrie Nelson was adding up chemistry grades, and after adding about twenty she sighed and said: "I do wish people would make mistakes in round numbers."

* * *

Frank Minarik was leading the yells at a basketball game and happened to look up in the balcony, where he saw his friend Stacy moonshining with Flora. So, instead of saying, "Make 'em big," as he usually does, he said, "Howell—Strong."

* * *

Chester Osborn (writing French exercises)—"I say, 'Red,' what is salt in French?"
Oscar Stanton—"Same that it is in English, isn't it?"

* * *

Mildred Striplin—"Say, Patton, how many subjects are you carrying?"
Patton—"Well, I'm carrying one and dragging four."

* * *

"The world is old, yet likes to laugh;
New jokes are hard to find,
And an entire editorial staff
Can't tickle every mind."

FLU—You're out of style unless you have it.

GOSSIP—The chief pastime in Carnegie Hall.

HOUSE IN THE WOODS—A house that is a home to man.

IDEAS—Something all the members of the annual staff would like to have.

JOKE—See the other pages of this part of the book; also the Highland Echo.

KNOWLEDGE—What we are supposed to go to school for.

LOVE—That which drives students to moonshine.

MOONSHINE—The name of a course in which no one ever cuts. For further information see Percy, John Hendricks, or Wilbur Templin.

NEVER—A word synonymous with don't. Used, especially by matrons, as a preface to rules.

OBEY—Every model boy does it.

PRECEDENT—That which must be neither established nor broken.

PICTURE SHOW—A place where you must never go.

QUESTIONS—Something never asked by polite people, even though they be teachers.

RATS—A race of creatures which obey no rules of etiquette or even of matrons.

STAFF—A bunch of blooming idiots.

SYSTEM—What there must be to everything. (Ask the Dean.)

TEST—An unfair method of finding out what we do not know.

UTILIZATION—The use of scraps of meat, potatoes and onions to make hash.

VIGILANCE—A quality you must have if you throw bread without being caught.

WORK—Getting out a CHILHOWEAN.

XANTHOGENANIDE—Greek to Freshman (and even to most Seniors).

YANKEE DOODLE—A march played in chapel on special occasions, but always preceded by Dixie.

ZERO—That which preceded by another zero and a one would bring joy instead of sorrow.

In Appreciation

NOW that the last copy has been sent to the printer, and after much persuasion ———— organization has turned in its material, Dean Barnes has had his picture made, the clubs have paid up, and the two questions, "When is the CHILHOWEAN coming out?" and "How much will the annual cost?" have been answered cheerfully for the *n*th time, the staff has begun to breathe freely once more. Its members have done prodigious things, made up whole terms of note-books, read months of outside reading, learned hundreds of lines of poetry, and, in short, made up for the time they spent checking up pictures, counting lines, and requesting people to please turn in their copy.

Now that the 1920 annual is a reality, we wonder how it was ever accomplished. Indeed, it could not have been without the kind help of many who were not on the staff—the help of those who turned in kodak pictures, of those who did typewriting so carefully, of those faithful club, society and class editors who worked cheerfully that their part of the annual might be as attractive as possible; of Prof. Bassett, who patiently censored every word and every picture; and especially of Mr. Eugene Webb, whose interest and enthusiasm even equaled that of the members of the staff, and who made the pictures all that could be desired. To all these, and to all others who helped in any way, the staff is very grateful. Without them this book would have been impossible.
